

Author Biography

Mary Beth O'Connell, Pharm.D., BCPS, FASHP, FCCP

Dr. O'Connell is an Associate Professor in the Pharmacy Practice Department at the Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, Wayne State University, Detroit, MI. She is also a geriatric ambulatory care pharmacy specialist with the Detroit Medical Center Rosa Parks Geriatric Center of Excellence. Dr. O'Connell received her Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy from Wayne State University and her Doctor of Pharmacy degree from University of Minnesota. She completed an ASHP approved residency at Harper Hospital, Detroit, MI and a research fellowship at the Drug Evaluation Unit, Minneapolis, MN.

Dr. O'Connell's teaching, practice and research focuses on geriatric and women's health pharmacotherapy with an emphasis on osteoporosis prevention and treatment. She has over 50 peer reviewed publications in pharmacy and medical literature and textbooks. Her newest course is Patients' Perspectives on Health, Illness, and Culture, which helps pharmacy students develop cultural competency skills. This course received a 2009 American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy Innovations in Teaching Award. She participates in international teaching and pharmacy organization activities, and is an active member of many professional organizations including being the past president of the American College of Clinical Pharmacy and the Minnesota Society of Health-system Pharmacists and chair of many committees and task forces. Dr. O'Connell is a member of the National Institute of Health's Office of Research on Women's Health Advisory Board and the editorial boards for Pharmacotherapy and Journal of the American Geriatrics Society. For her professional activities, Dr. O'Connell has received a number of teaching, service and pharmacy awards.