

SafeMedication.com

The American Society of Health-System Pharmacists' (ASHP's) consumer Web site, www.SafeMedication.com, is a reliable online resource for up-to-date, accurate drug information. It offers a variety of health information and interactive features, including:

- ASHP's MedMaster™ database, which features complete, easy-to-read information on more than 850 prescription and nonprescription drugs,
  - MedMaster™ is based on ASHP's premier drug information resources, which are developed independently by pharmacists and other medication experts. Each listing includes medication uses, precautions, special dietary instructions, side effects, and storage information.
- Tips on pain management, poison prevention for both seniors and children, and safely traveling with medicines, and information on medication myths,
- Answers to questions frequently asked of pharmacists, such as what basic items should be stored in a medicine cabinet and if prescription medications expire,
- Health alerts, which provide breaking news about health and medication issues,
- Helpful guidelines and diagrams for administering medicines such as eye- and eardrops, and
- ASHP survey data on national medication-use trends.
